

The Baddest Blues Band (Ever!)

Some of the funkier musicians from the parallel worlds of blues, jazz and rock play classic songs by the likes of Ray Charles, Nina Simone and Willie Dixon, plus great originals by the band's guitarist Rob Koral and vocalist Zoë Schwarz. This earthy all-star band is guaranteed to get you rocking!

A six-piece blues band with a distinct and individual sound featuring expressive, sassy vocals, virtuoso guitar, animated and charismatic harmonica, wailing Hammond-organ, supported by rocking bass and drums. A vibrant and exciting combination audiences find compelling.

They have been together two years now and have played impressive seasons of festivals, clubs and concerts going down stormingly well with audiences and reviewers.

"Electric blues can be one of the most exciting styles of music, especially when served with a dash of jazz..... 'The Baddest Blues Band Ever' " - John Watson, Lichfield-Guildhall.

"They are superb." - Blues Matters

"The finest new blues band on the British scene....? very possibly., producing exhilarating and vibrant dance blues. The players are all amazing musicians with excellent track records." - Dan Somogy, SoundStorm

"One of the finest guitar based blues and roots acts in the world." - Timeout

"Storming, jazz-infused blues band led by sultry singer Zoë Schwarz with guitarist Rob Koral and top-notch jazzers." - Timeout
