ERR YEAH, SO WHAT IS FREEPLAY AGAIN?..

Freeplay is...an opportunity...

For local musicians to meet: and chill out on a regular basis, in a local atmospheric pub (with a difference!)

To jam together: Share our love of music...experiment...learn from each other...challenge selves and others...strive to be better than we are as musicians/singers/songwriters and grow in confidence and promote selves.

Invites artists/creative writers and performers to join in and share the fun and excitement of combining words...images...music in a spontaneous, collaborative way

To be involved in Freeplay related events...performing in public spaces and interacting with the audience and local community...taking spontaneous live music/art experiences to the people and reminding them that it can be good fun!

News from TAP (The Arts Poole)

The March Creative Hub was a great success. We had 61 people attend and many of those joined in the poetry and jamming session. We should have a video to show you soon.

The Arts Poole's next Creative Hub event is on Thurs 1st April. It's the day before Good Friday so, if you're not going away, most of you can come along for a great night out knowing that there's no work the next day!

This April local comedy promoter Richard Ryan will be hosting a participatory comedy evening from 7.30 to 8.30pm.

If you want to hone your comic timing, recite amusing poetry, or are just brave enough to get up and tell a joke, this is your opportunity.

From 8.30 to 11.30pm, Freeplay Mix, our music and poetry jamming session, will take place upstairs. Downstairs, we will leave space for people to be spontaneous - playing on the piano, drawing, reciting poetry, and networking. So come along and meet other artists, musicians and other creatives, be inspired, and have fun

Doors open 7pm; Entry: £3, but free for those doing a comedy turn and participants in Freeplay.

See our website detailing our events and other news about TAP and the arts in Poole. We also have a Facebook group.
